

THE GAZETTE.

FRIDAY, MAY 9.
Notice to Subscribers.

Subscribers to THE DAILY GAZETTE who do not receive their paper regularly, will confer a favor by reporting extensions promptly at THE GAZETTE PRINTING ROOM.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Two nicely furnished houses, on full lots 4th and 5th streets, South Franklin St., fourth ward, city.

For oil cloth, the very best 38 cents per yard at Chicago store.

For SALE—A new-milch cow; one of the best in the city. Apply at this office.

Big job lot of lace collars, "your choice for 10 cents." Come early, as there is an advantage in first choice. N. Y. Saving Store.

McKey & Bro. have opened another invoice of millinery goods, and are showing some choice and stylish work in their trimming department.

Just received from shipment, a sale, a large stock of fine men's, boys' and children's clothing, and hats which will sell at 50 cents on the dollar.

Twenty-five cents buys a lace collar worth 50 to 75 cents, at the New York Saving Store. Over 200 styles to select from.

The Chicago store sells an extra fine Jersey for $1.35.

You can secure an elegant home for a small sum of money by responding to this notice at once. Location and price sure to please.

We can sell you 2 hats for just what you pay others for one, Chicago store.

English prim dinner, breakfast and sets at Wheelock's, $10.00.

Whitson & McLean, the druggists.

Bottom prices on every thing in the drug line at Stearns & Baker.

Do not fail to examine the stock at Foots & Wilcox's when in want of clothing made to order or ready made.

We have the best assortment of collared trusses in the city. A full guaranteed. STEARNS & BAKER.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

The largest stock of trunks and traveling bags in the city at Foots & Wilcox's.

All parties owing me will please call and settle immediately. Accounts remaining unpaid will be placed in the hands of an attorney for collection.

MARK COLEMAN.

Mr. S. H. Phelps, on South river street is prepared to sharpen and repair lawnmowers on short notice. He also makes a specialty of repairing chains, and has a general repair and job shop.

Cash paid for furniture at Ferguson's second hand store, 33 North Main street.

For SALE—10,000 acres of land in Martin and Jackson counties, Southern Minnesota, at prices ranging from $6 to $8 per acre. For information inquire of CAMPBELL & KILPATRICK, Tailors' block, Janesville, Wis.

Shop at Ogden house, Chicago, Illinois corner Washington and Franklin streets near Court house; $1.50 per day.

For SALE—A good lot, house and barn on Glen street, Second ward. Price $1,000. JOHN G. REXFORD.

Jackman's livery stable, on South Main street. Horses boarded for $3.00 per week.

For SALE—100 acres of choice farming land in Kingsbury county, Dakota, located 1 1/2 miles south of the town of Ironopolis on the C. & N. W. R. R.

WHEELER & STEVENS.

Call at Green & Rice's grocery store and get some of the bargains being offered there. It will pay you for your time spent.

Braided wood feathers and lined down, for filling beds and making pillows; also cedar shavings for putting under carpets to protect them from moths at Sanborn & Canfield.

For RENT—Three dwelling houses two with about three acres of good ground each. For Sale—A large number of houses and lots, business blocks, and Rock county farms, at special prices. Call on BLANCHARD & WILCOX.

No such line of elegant patterns of body Brussels carpets with borders to match ever shown in Janesville as has this day been received by M. C. Smith. Also some elegant samples of moquette. The carpet trade is booming these days at the New York Cash store.

Edwards Allen and Tonia Ditters are sold at Palmer & Stevens' drugstore.

Two hundred straw hats, latest styles in ladies' and children's shapes, all at 25 cents each. Many more worth 50 cents to $1. N. Y. Saving Store.

Smoke Consin-Kate 10 cent cigar.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Five residence formerly owned by Dr. Burrus, for sale cheap. Address W. L. Denning & Co.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Populism remedies are sold by Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice.

40 acres of good tobacco land south of Blind Institute for sale in 5 or 10 acre lots and on easy terms. Apply to C. E. Bowles.

For SALE—Forty-four acres of choice tobacco land in 3d ward if applied for at once. For information address W. L. Denning & Co.

The greatest variety of buggies and lumber wagons to be found in this city is at S. L. James', and can be found for the least money.

Warren's kidney and liver cure at Whitson & McLean.

See McKey & Bro's carpet stock before you buy.

McCallagh & Galbraith have on hand a very stylish assortment of spring and summer gowns, consisting of Ladies' hats and gloves, consisting of black, tan, opera, slates etc., also a full stock of lace mitts in above assortment of colors.

DRIVERS.

—Good Temple night.

—Mr. Arthur Kent has gone to Huron, Dakota.

—The lawn mower is at work in the court house park.

—The Grand Army veterans rally this evening at post headquarters.

—Dr. M. A. Newman has gone to Iowa on business, and will be absent a few days.

—Quite a number of Janesville people went up to Indian Ford to-day on a fishing excursion.

—Bower City Temple No. 3, Patriarchal Circle assemble this evening in regular semi-monthly meeting.

—Rev. C. J. Hendley will officiate in Trinity church on Sunday next, morning and evening. Holy communion at 8 o'clock.

—The real estate firm of Blanchard & Wilcox has been dissolved, the business to be continued by Mr. H. H. Blanchard, at his old place.

—A leak in the gas main in West Milwaukee street is causing the company considerable trouble and expense to find the exact location.

—Mrs. R. L. Colvin has changed her residence from the Myers house to the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Watson in the second ward.

—The real estate firm of Doubling & Murray sold the Samuel Hayes farm, in the town of Harmony, yesterday, to Mr. William Dugg, the purchase price being $7,920.

—A little runaway occurred on West Milwaukee street last evening, the horse, attached to a buggy, galloped around the old Hyatt house block, the only damage resulting being a broken singletree.

—Mrs. E. A. Smith, of Rockford, was in the city to-day paying a brief visit to her many friends. They will start for Cleveland next Monday, where Mr. Smith takes a position in a large retail boot and shoe store, as general manager.

—The temperance lecture delivered at St. Patrick's church last evening, by Rev. Father Mahoney, of Kenedelton, was attended by a large number of our citizens. Father Mahoney is an able lecturer, and handled his subject in such a manner as to deeply interest his large audience.

—Mr. J. O. Rubin started yesterday for Fairbank, Dakota, the new town on the Missouri river, above Fort Pierre, taking his household goods, and bakery outfit, intending to settle in that town if found as represented; if not, he intends to look up a good location, when his family will join him.

—A new stone monument is being laid in front of the property of David Mayors, P. P. Schicker, J. B. Ethel, A. K. Cutts and Mrs. Zeisinger on North Main street. The work is being done in first class order, and is the best work of the kind in the city. Mr. Michael Hodgins is doing the work of laying the pavement, and it is evidence that he thoroughly understands the business.

—The first annual dance given by W. H. Sargent Post No. 20, G. A. R., in the Rites armory last evening was well attended, by young and middle-aged people, the attendance of ex-soldiers being quite numerous. Smith & Corlies orchestra furnished capital music, and the party was one of the most pleasant. The post received a very substantial benefit.

—Mr. Henry L. Pitcher and his corps of clerks have shown good taste in arranging and displaying goods in the large show windows on the Milwaukee street front of their clothing establishment. The artistic work is not overdone, and the goods are so arranged as to attract the attention of all who pass that way. The goods are only samples of what is on sale in the mammoth establishment.

—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Connell, St. Mary's avenue, second ward, was thrown into mourning by the sudden coming of the messenger death, and claiming their little eight-month-old babe as a victim. In their bereavement they have the sympathy of all. The funeral took place this afternoon from St. Mary's church, Rev. Father Roche conducting the services, and the remains of the little one were laid to rest in the Catholic cemetery.

One of the most agonizing forms of that distressful disease rheumatism, is sentinal. The wife of Rev. C. M. Heard, of Neenah, Wis., was a victim of such affliction. "She did not suffer pain constantly, but only on making certain movements. She was, after taking half a bottle of Atholophors, greatly relieved, so that she could make the movements without pain before she could not. She continued then with the small doses until the bottle was empty."

Death of James Hudson. James Hudson, formerly a resident of this city, died at his home in Edgerton, Tuesday last. The deceased came to this city in 1839, from Spitzby, in the county of Lancashire, England, and was engaged in the boot and shoe business for many years. About 1879 he removed to Edgerton, this county, where he continued to reside until his death. He leaves three children, Mrs. John Kizer, of Edgerton, Mrs. Dr. William Horne, of this city, and a son who resides in Spitzby, in England.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Circuit Court.

There was a midnight session of the circuit court last night, to receive the verdict of the jury in the Garvin case. The judge and court officers were sent for about 9 o'clock, but it was half past eleven before they were finally got together. The jury was brought in, and announced that they had not agreed, and desired to hear a portion of the charge again. The part referred to was read to them, and they intimated that they could now agree in a few minutes, and Judge Bennett told them he would wait for the verdict, so as to discharge them and not compel them to remain locked up all night. It was half-past 12 before they reappeared and returned their verdict. They had been given some twenty questions to answer, and found them troublesome. They found that the engine was running at the rate of eight miles an hour at the time it struck the plaintiff, and that the bell was not ringing. They also ascertained that both the plaintiff and the company employees were guilty of negligence at the time of the accident. They found that the plaintiff had suffered damages to the amount of $400, but found a general verdict for the defendant. The question as to whether the plaintiff is entitled to pay for her damages from the railroad company under the circumstances will be argued by her attorneys.

The case of George Warren as administrator, etc., vs. Eliah Hill, is being argued to the jury this afternoon. The parties bail from Lane.

Pitcher's Column.

By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that Mr. Henry L. Pitcher has received the agency in this city, for Messrs. Browning, King & Co., of New York, the largest tailoring establishment in the world, and has a full and complete line of samples for his customers, to make their selections. By this arrangement Mr. Pitcher is enabled to give all his customers as perfect garments as can be procured, always guaranteeing satisfaction and prices as low as the same quality of goods can be procured in any market. He takes great delight in showing goods to his customers, and invites the public to call and give his stock a careful inspection.

More about the stolen horse and buggy. Yesterday's Racine Journal contains the following additional particulars concerning the recovery of the Nelson brothers' stolen horse and buggy, and also of the thief: "Last Sunday night a dark bay mare eleven years old, having three white legs, together with a top buggy and harness, was stolen from Nelson Bros. livery stable at Janesville, Wis., by a young man who hired the rig. Monday a man arrived in this city with a rig answering the description of the one stolen, and he endeavored to sell it to James Gorton and Black Bros. for $250. The police got on the track of the fellow, and Chief Mills traced him to the Central hotel on Seventh street, of which ex-Sheriff George Bremner is proprietor. Here the property was found, the thief having sold it to Mr. Bremner for a consideration not known, and up to the present time the police have not been able to locate him. Mr. Nelson arrived from Janesville to-day and took possession of the property, which he had no trouble in identifying."

LARSEN.—This morning City Marshal Hogan arrived in the city accompanied by Mr. Nelson, owner of the horse and buggy. Mr. Hogan reports that he arrested the fellow who stole the property, at Rockford, Ill., on yesterday, and that it was Bert Lefler, of this city, and took him back to Janesville where he is now locked up. He also stated that when Lefler engaged the rig it was for the purpose of going to Clinton Junction, but instead he drove to Racine. When he arrived there he sold the outfit to George Bremner for $100. It is alleged that Lefler told Bremner he put up $100 against the rig in a gambling scheme and won it. Lefler is well known in this city and has a wife and child now living here. He was engaged at work in J. J. Baker's for a long time, and the police suspected that he and a companion had committed various crimes of late. He has numerous relatives here. Mr. Bremner gave the horse up without any trouble, and he is out $100."

Upon searching the prisoner, when he arrived at the county jail, Sheriff Harper found a large leather pocket book bearing the following inscription written in ink—"T. L. Williams, Union Grove Racine," on the right end and "Treasurer of Yorkville" on the left end. The pocket book contained nothing to give the prisoner away. He is very shy of newspaper men, and refuses to converse with them.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, 32nd Street, P.O. Box 111.

FREE RAW MATERIALS.

Meeting of the New York Free Traders to Boom Tariff Reform.

Immediate Objects of the Organization.—The Speeches.—Union League Club—Ben Butler's Pension Idea.

New York, May 8.—A meeting was held in the Waldorf hotel of a number of the merchants and manufacturers of New York city to discuss the question of tariff reform, and if possible to effect an organization which might call to the attention of congress such measures as should seem advisable looking toward that end. Although more than 150 invitations were issued to prominent business men of the city not more than forty were present. The object of the meeting was to recommend:

First.—The abolition of all duties on raw materials, such as wool, iron and other ores, coal, lime, hemp, flax, dyestuffs, etc., etc., in order that we may compete in home and foreign markets with other manufacturing nations, not only of our own country, but of all other nations, and that we may be able to produce goods at a lower cost than our competitors.

Second.—The abolition of the tariff on such manufactures as are produced in the United States, and that we may be able to compete in home and foreign markets with other manufacturing nations, not only of our own country, but of all other nations, and that we may be able to produce goods at a lower cost than our competitors.

Third.—The abolition of the tariff on such manufactures as are produced in the United States, and that we may be able to compete in home and foreign markets with other manufacturing nations, not only of our own country, but of all other nations, and that we may be able to produce goods at a lower cost than our competitors.

Fourth.—The abolition of the tariff on such manufactures as are produced in the United States, and that we may be able to compete in home and foreign markets with other manufacturing nations, not only of our own country, but of all other nations, and that we may be able to produce goods at a lower cost than our competitors.

Fifth.—The abolition of the tariff on such manufactures as are produced in the United States, and that we may be able to compete in home and foreign markets with other manufacturing nations, not only of our own country, but of all other nations, and that we may be able to produce goods at a lower cost than our competitors.

Sixth.—The abolition of the tariff on such manufactures as are produced in the United States, and that we may be able to compete in home and foreign markets with other manufacturing nations, not only of our own country, but of all other nations, and that we may be able to produce goods at a lower cost than our competitors.

Seventh.—The abolition of the tariff on such manufactures as are produced in the United States, and that we may be able to compete in home and foreign markets with other manufacturing nations, not only of our own country, but of all other nations, and that we may be able to produce goods at a lower cost than our competitors.

Eighth.—The abolition of the tariff on such manufactures as are produced in the United States, and that we may be able to compete in home and foreign markets with other manufacturing nations, not only of our own country, but of all other nations, and that we may be able to produce goods at a lower cost than our competitors.

Ninth.—The abolition of the tariff on such manufactures as are produced in the United States, and that we may be able to compete in home and foreign markets with other manufacturing nations, not only of our own country, but of all other nations, and that we may be able to produce goods at a lower cost than our competitors.

Tenth.—The abolition of the tariff on such manufactures as are produced in the United States, and that we may be able to compete in home and foreign markets with other manufacturing nations, not only of our own country, but of all other nations, and that we may be able to produce goods at a lower cost than our competitors.

Eleventh.—The abolition of the tariff on such manufactures as are produced in the United States, and that we may be able to compete in home and foreign markets with other manufacturing nations, not only of our own country, but of all other nations, and that we may be able to produce goods at a lower cost than our competitors.

Twelfth.—The abolition of the tariff on such manufactures as are produced in the United States, and that we may be able to compete in home and foreign markets with other manufacturing nations, not only of our own country, but of all other nations, and that we may be able to produce goods at a lower cost than our competitors.

Thirteenth.—The abolition of the tariff on such manufactures as are produced in the United States, and that we may be able to compete in home and foreign markets with other manufacturing nations, not only of our own country, but of all other nations, and that we may be able to produce goods at a lower cost than our competitors.

Fourteenth.—The abolition of the tariff on such manufactures as are produced in the United States, and that we may be able to compete in home and foreign markets with other manufacturing nations, not only of our own country, but of all other nations, and that we may be able to produce goods at a lower cost than our competitors.

Fifteenth.—The abolition of the tariff on such manufactures as are produced in the United States, and that we may be able to compete in home and foreign markets with other manufacturing nations, not only of our own country, but of all other nations, and that we may be able to produce goods at a lower cost than our competitors.

Sixteenth.—The abolition of the tariff on such manufactures as are produced in the United States, and that we may be able to compete in home and foreign markets with other manufacturing nations, not only of our own country, but of all other nations, and that we may be able to produce goods at a lower cost than our competitors.

Seventeenth.—The abolition of the tariff on such manufactures as are produced in the United States, and that we may be able to compete in home and foreign markets with other manufacturing nations, not only of our own country, but of all other nations, and that we may be able to produce goods at a lower cost than our competitors.

Eighteenth.—The abolition of the tariff on such manufactures as are produced in the United States, and that we may be able to compete in home and foreign markets with other manufacturing nations, not only of our own country, but of all other nations, and that we may be able to produce goods at a lower cost than our competitors.

Nineteenth.—The abolition of the tariff on such manufactures as are produced in the United States, and that we may be able to compete in home and foreign markets with other manufacturing nations, not only of our own country, but of all other nations, and that we may be able to produce goods at a lower cost than our competitors.

Twentieth.—The abolition of the tariff on such manufactures as are produced in the United States, and that we may be able to compete in home and foreign markets with other manufacturing nations, not only of our own country, but of all other nations, and that we may be able to produce goods at a lower cost than our competitors.

Twenty-first.—The abolition of the tariff on such manufactures as are produced in the United States, and that we may be able to compete in home and foreign markets with other manufacturing nations, not only of our own country, but of all other nations, and that we may be able to produce goods at a lower cost than our competitors.

Twenty-second.—The abolition of the tariff on such manufactures as are produced in the United States, and that we may be able to compete in home and foreign markets with other manufacturing nations, not only of our own country, but of all other nations, and that we may be able to produce goods at a lower cost than our competitors.

Twenty-third.—The abolition of the tariff on such manufactures as are produced in the United States, and that we may be able to compete in home and foreign markets with other manufacturing nations, not only of our own country, but of all other nations, and that we may be able to produce goods at a lower cost than our competitors.

Twenty-fourth.—The abolition of the tariff on such manufactures as are produced in the United States, and that we may be able to compete in home and foreign markets with other manufacturing nations, not only of our own country, but of all other nations, and that we may be able to produce goods at a lower cost than our competitors.

Twenty-fifth.—The abolition of the tariff on such manufactures as are produced in the United States, and that we may be able to compete in home and foreign markets with other manufacturing nations, not only of our own country, but of all other nations, and that we may be able to produce goods at a lower cost than our competitors.

Twenty-sixth.—The abolition of the tariff on such manufactures as are produced in the United States, and that we may be able to compete in home and foreign markets with other manufacturing nations, not only of our own country, but of all other nations, and that we may be able to produce goods at a lower cost than our competitors.

Twenty-seventh.—The abolition of the tariff on such manufactures as are produced in the United States, and that we may be able to compete in home and foreign markets with other manufacturing nations, not only of our own country, but of all other nations, and that we may be able